GXS to Address the Evolution of B2B Trading Environments with Senior Automotive Executives at Odette 2007

November 20th – 21st, 2007, Hilton Hotel, Prague

ODETTE 2007, Prague – November 20, 2007 — GXS, a leading provider of business-to-business (B2B) e-commerce solutions, will address more than 500 automotive industry executives at the Odette conference to be held from November 20th to 21st at the Hilton Hotel in Prague. GXS will provide insight into next generation B2B trading platforms, how Software as a Service (SaaS) based delivery models could help companies quickly deploy global supply chain strategies and how these will differ from today's B2B environments.

Details of the GXS session are as follows:

Who: Mark Morley, Director of Automotive and Industrial Marketing
What: Where Next for B2B Trading Environments?
When: Tuesday, November 20th, 2007 4:00 p.m. CET

Specifically, the presentation will cover:

- The continuing trend for B2B outsourcing, not just from the large global corporations but from smaller companies looking to implement a company-wide B2B environment;
- Outsourcing trends, looking at how mid-size companies will soon be able to utilise B2B platforms traditionally deployed by much larger companies; and
- How automotive companies are looking to take advantage of new e-invoicing solutions which offer full regulatory compliance across European member countries.

With more than 40 years of automotive industry experience, GXS delivers standards-based supply chain solutions and services that enable a company - regardless of its size, location or technical sophistication - to become "demand-driven". Leading global OEMs, suppliers and standards organisations have partnered with GXS to deploy its Trading Grid® solutions and services to improve materials management, logistics and financial performance of their global supply chains. GXS hosts one of the largest B2B networks in the world, supporting an unmatched automotive customer base that includes over 75 percent of the Fortune 500 and 90 percent of Global 2000 automotive companies as clients. An active member in automotive industry standards organisations including the Automotive Industry Action Group, Odette, Automotive Aftermarket Industry Association and the Open Applications Group, GXS offers localised sales, consulting and technical support throughout the United States, Europe and Asia.
