

GXS WEBINAR HELPS COMPANIES CUT THROUGH THE JARGON OF INTERNET COMMUNICATIONS PROTOCOLS AND MAKE THE RIGHT BUSINESS CHOICE

John Radko, GXS' chief technology strategist, is to host a webinar for European supply chain decision-makers entitled Understanding Your Internet-Based Communications Options on 18th March 2008. John Radko will discuss the multitude of Internet-based protocols and how they work, with a particular focus on AS2 and Secure FTP. With new protocols emerging every year, companies face an uphill battle in determining which protocols they should adopt and maintaining knowledge of those protocols.

This webinar will address the following:

- What are the Internet-based protocol options?
- How does each protocol work?
- What does a company need to know to determine which protocols are right for it?

Details of the webinar are as follows:
